

RUNNETH LONDON PRIVACY POLICY

This Policy, together with our Website Terms and Conditions and other Terms and Conditions, sets out the basis on which any personal data we collect from you, or that you provide to us, will be processed by us. Please read the following carefully to understand our views and practices regarding your personal data and how we will treat it.

Use of Personal Information

We are committed to protecting your privacy.

We will use all reasonable endeavours to ensure that the information you provide to us is kept private and confidential and is only used to provide the services you request. By submitting your personal information to us, you confirm that you accept this Privacy Policy and consent to our using your personal data for the purposes of providing our services to you, for communicating with you, and for marketing, statutory, accounting and archival purposes.

Your personal information will not be shared with persons other than our employees, consultants, agents and appointed representatives without your consent, except in accordance with law and the administration of our business in circumstances that respect your privacy interests.

We will not sell your personal information to third parties for marketing purposes. We do not store or share credit card information.

If we reasonably believe that we are required by law to disclose your personal information to a third party, whether in compliance with any applicable law or regulation or by order of a court or in connection with legal proceedings, we may do so. We may also do so where we reasonably believe that it is necessary in order to protect the personal safety of ourselves, our members, or the general public.

Security

We will do our best to protect your personal data using appropriate technical and organisational steps. However, you acknowledge that we cannot absolutely guarantee the security of your personal data.

The transmission of information via the internet is not completely secure. We cannot guarantee the security of data transmitted to our site; any transmission is at your own risk.

General

If you wish to find out what data we hold for you, or to have it amended or removed from our database, or if you have any questions about this Privacy Policy, please Contact Us via the website. We may charge a fee for servicing data requests.

If you believe that any information we are holding on you is incorrect or incomplete, please contact us as soon as possible. We will promptly correct any information found to be incorrect.

Changes to Privacy Policy

We reserve the right to modify or amend this Privacy Policy at any time and for any reason. You should check the website from time to time to ensure that you are happy with any changes.
